

WHAT THE AGO CAN DO FOR YOU

If "You" are a Church or Synagogue

1. The AGO helps to upgrade the quality of all church music through its programs, workshops and master classes, most of which are open to non-members as well as to members.
2. The AGO maintains a placement service for organists and/or choir directors – full or part-time, permanent or temporary. If you are in need of a musician, contact the AGO officer listed on page 3 of this booklet.

If "You" are a Church Musician

1. The AGO provides invaluable contact with colleagues in church music.
2. There are many educational opportunities through:
 - a. Classes, workshops and programs at local monthly meetings and yearly regional or national conventions.
 - b. Optional Guild examinations for Service Playing, Choir-master, Colleague, Associateship and Fellowship certificates.
 - c. A national organ-playing competition every two years with preliminary local and regional competitions.
3. Assistance in finding available positions.
